Long Lawford News...

Summer 8

There is always a lot going on in school and the last week has been no exception. Last Friday Year 5 had a wonderful morning enriching their learning on the Ancient Mayans of Mexico with the Mexicolore group. Artist Anthony James has been a regular visitor to school working with Year 4 on the Romans and Year 6 on creating the scenery for their leaver's show. He is also due in school next week to work with Year 5 on the Ancient Mayans. Yesterday the whole school was treated to an International day with students from Warwick University. Students from Holland, Italy, China and the Middle East shared aspects of their culture and language with the children. Such activities are an important part of our curriculum. They also serve to illustrate our commitment as a school to make the learning meaningful and engaging for the children.
